Rocketteller and Carnegie Tell Why They Spend Millions to Aid the Cause of Humanity

Laird of Skibo Says He Had Good Time Talking With His Men While the Oil Magnate Would Give Holdings to Workers if Practical Plan Were Worked Out

"I never had such a good time in my life as when talking with my employees when I was actively engaged in business. When they call you Andy instead of Andrew or Mr. Carnegie, you know the boys are your friends."—Andrew Carnegie.

"I would be only too happy to surrender my holdings in whole or in part if the workers could come into the boards of directors and get the profits. I would be very happy to think that the workers were my partners."—John D. Rockefeller.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and Andrew Carnegie testified today before the federal commission on industrial relations. They defended the foundations which they have endowed with their wealth, and neither would say he believed that the institutions constituted a menace to the religious, political or educational liberty of the people of the United States. A desire to promote the welfare of mankind, and that alone, they said, prompted them to establish the foundations which bear their names.

Widely different was the manner in which these two men faced the commission, and the varied audience, which was composed largely of representatives of labor, Socialists, individualists and members of the Industrial Workers of the World. Mr. Carnegie went to the witness stand from a seat in the audience. He declined to sit while reading answers to a list of questions submitted by the commission while he was being interrogated.

Mr. Carnegie was in a jovial mood. The answers he gave to questions caused the audience and commission members to roar with laughter. When asked the question, "When did you last spend such a pleasant afternoon in many years?"

Men Called Him "Andy."

In his testimony, Mr. Carnegie revealed that, up to the close of last year, his donations totaled $224,657,359. His present business, he said, was to do all the good he could in this world. He sketched the growth of his steel business and said he "never had such a good time in his life" as when he was talking to his employees. The men liked him, too. "When they call you Andy instead of Andrew or Mr. Carnegie you know the boys are your friends," said he.

Mr. Carnegie invited the commissioners to visit the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh. Commissioner Walsh informed him that the commission planned to hold hearings in Pittsburgh at a later date and that it might accept his invitation.

Mr. Rockefeller's appearance as a witness was a surprise. It was learned after he left the stand that Sergeant-at-Arms Egan went yesterday to Potomac hills, the Rockefeller country estate, and gave him the list of questions that had been prepared for him. He asked Mr. Rockefeller whether he would appear voluntarily as a witness. Mr. Rockefeller replied he would be very glad to do so. He was surprised to appear Saturday morning.

Rockefeller Has to Wait.

While Mr. Carnegie was on the stand Mr. Rockefeller's private secretary presented to chairman Walsh a statement containing answers to the questions submitted to Mr. Rockefeller and said that his employer was outside and that if the answers did not suffice he would like to be put on the witness stand immediately. He was asked to wait in a room adjoining until Mr. Carnegie had concluded.

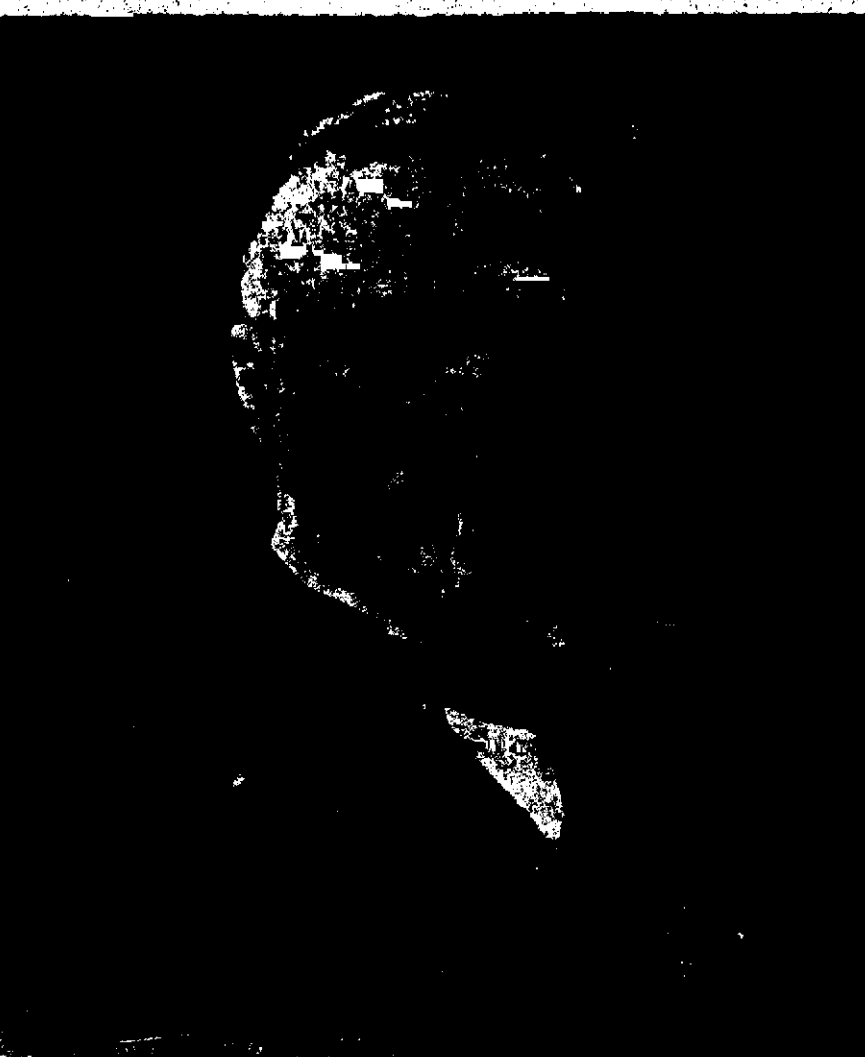

Mr. Rockefeller was assisted to the witness stand by members of his personal staff. Seating himself with much difficulty, he leaned on a little table in front of him and looked at the audience. When he started to read his answers his voice was scarcely audible. After he had finished his statement he folded his hands and looked inquisitively at the commissioners. Mr. Rockefeller appeared to have aged considerably since he last gave testimony in public. He spoke very slowly and calmly.

He said his sole motive was to devote a portion of his fortune to the service of his fellow men, and that he regarded the right to receive the charities of the foundations as an official guarantee against abuse of the funds. He told about his meeting with J. P. Morgan, president of the American National Bank, and W. L. Mackay, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, and W. L. Mackay, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, and W. L. Mackay, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

Would Surrender Holdings.

He told how he directed his business enterprises and the part he played in the administration of the foundations. He said he would be glad to see the right to organize, working men and business men as well as providing them with the proper legal status in respect to the law and to

MASTERS OF MILLIONS GIVE VIEWS ON INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS

TWO BATTLESHIP PROGRAM CARRIES

Underwood Pleads National Poverty and Wins on First Vote; Later Loses

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Over a strenuous protest from Majority Leader Underwood, the house in passing the naval appropriation bill tonight remained provision for the construction of two new dreadnoughts. Representative Underwood declared the nation was facing a probable treasury deficit next year of $55,000,000 and economy advocates had not succeeded in striking out appropriations aggregating more than $8,000,000 for five submarines, a transport and a hospital ship.

The bill, as it goes to the senate, carries $14,618,902 and authorizes the following construction program:

Two battleships of the largest and most powerful design, $7,500,000 each, exclusive of armor and armament.

Six torpedo boat destroyers, $55,000 each.

One seaplane submarine tender, $1,400,000.

Eleven submarines, $550,000 each.

One oil fuel ship, $1,100,000.

The proposed hospital ship would have cost $2,500,000 and the transport, $1,100,000.

An amendment was adopted authorizing the construction of three of the six destroyers on the Pacific coast. Five of the submarines are to be built there. The bill provides that any of the vessels authorized may be constructed in government yards, but Chairman Padgett of the naval committee explained that the New York plant, the only one to which a battleship might be given, already was working to its capacity.

New Features Stricken Out.

All new legislation, including provisions for the creation of a naval reserve, for an aide for operations in the navy department to head a war board, and for creation of the rank of admiral and vice admiral were stricken from the bill several days ago. An effort will be made to have them restored in the senate.

The fight for one battleship at one time apparently was won. When Representative Underwood moved that four ships be authorized, Representative Underwood offered an amendment to reduce the number to one. The Underwood amendment was carried, 142 to 129. Immediately afterward, however, the Underwood amendment, as amended, was defeated, 148 to 139, thus leaving the original provision for two ships. The bill itself finally was passed without a roll call.

Mr. Underwood pleaded earnestly for economy, declaring the house must decide between intervention or further taxes upon the people. He asserted that the nation was in no more danger of war now than it was a year ago and the danger would continue to grow smaller if the United States pursued its own way. He warned that if America entered into an armament race it would mean war at the end of the month.

Proposes Government Hire Unemployed Who Later Would Join Army

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Representative Underwood of New York introduced a bill today to provide for a corps of the unemployed and to authorize the president to employ unemployed persons for 120 days in the work of rebuilding the nation. The bill would be paid for by the federal government. The bill would be paid for by the federal government. The bill would be paid for by the federal government.

MINING BROKERS TO MAKE SPECIAL TRIP TO CRIPPLE CREEK

Excursion to Gold Camp Is Planned to Learn More of Industry

Provided satisfactory arrangements can be made, mining brokers of Colorado Springs and Denver will make a trip to the Cripple Creek district in the near future and, if possible, inspect a number of the mines with a view of becoming better acquainted with the industry with which they are so closely allied. Possibly the excursion will be the work of the general public. Arrangements were placed in the hands of a committee composed of John T. Hawkins, H. A. Young and Charles M. Elbertson of Denver. The excursion, as originally outlined, will occupy seven days.

This was the most important matter, perhaps, discussed by the mining brokers at their smoker on the floor of the Colorado Springs Mining exchange last night. A large number of brokers and mining men from both this city and Denver were present. Speeches were made by Charles M. Elbertson, chairman of the board of directors and acting president of the El Paso Consolidated Gold Mining company, John T. Hawkins, Charles F. Rieck, H. F. Hunt, Walter C. Frost and others. Judge W. P. Kilmer, president of the exchange, presided.

Expect Legislative Relief.

Walter C. Frost brought up the subject of taxation and the brokers expressed the opinion that the present legislation will give some relief in this matter. The income tax at present, which is called so extravagant as to amount to confiscation, has greatly hampered the industry, speakers declared.

Mr. Elbertson spoke of the increased demand for gold as a result of the war. He pointed out that a year ago the value of the gold was about $100 a ounce, but now it is $150 a ounce.

This difference, he said, together with the fact that the gold is in demand for the war, has made it impossible for the gold producers of Europe to supply the demand. The gold producers of Europe are unable to supply the demand for gold. The gold producers of Europe are unable to supply the demand for gold.

U. S. TO PROTEST AGAINST GERMAN BLOCKADE ORDER

England Also Will Be Asked to Explain Alleged Use of Neutral Flags

SERIOUS QUESTION RAISED

Designation of War Zones Has Interrupted Shipping of All Nations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Wilson and his cabinet today discussed the possible effects on neutral shipping of the German proclamation declaring as naval war zones the water areas surrounding Great Britain and Ireland, and bordering the north and west coasts of France and a portion of The Netherlands.

Inasmuch as the text of the German proclamation has not arrived, no conclusions were reached and no consensus of opinion developed as to what diplomatic steps should be taken by the United States government. Should the proclamation fail to arrive by tomorrow, Acting Secretary Lansing will direct Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to make customary inquiry at the German foreign office as to the authenticity of a published report.

If the German proclamation, when officially transmitted, corresponds in phraseology to the report which came by wireless yesterday, it was suggested in executive quarters that the course of the American government probably would be to inquire first of the German government what measures of protection or convoy can be expected by American merchant ships passing through the designated war zones to neutral ports, and second, of the British government as to whether or not it has issued the alleged secret order permitting the use of neutral flags by her merchantmen.

Misuse of Flags Charged.

A denial by Great Britain of the existence of the order would be followed, it is understood, by an inquiry of German authorities as to proof of their charges. The suggestion that neutral flags were being misused caused no little concern among high officials, who said they had heard reports of it before.

Beyond seeking to establish what measures the German navy will take to aid American ships in passing safely through the war zones and what efforts will be made to verify the neutral character of vessels flying the American flag, it was stated on high authority that the United States government probably would not go to the point of a belittlement to designate a water area as a war zone within which it is dangerous for neutral craft to venture in a later recognized principle of international law, as the extent of the zone, the degree of menace to neutral vessels and the right to interrupt lawful commerce in the only existing water routes between neutral countries have never been defined.

The designation by Great Britain of the North sea as a war zone because of the mines strewn there called forth protests from some of the European neutral countries but the United States made no protest. Pilots were furnished for neutral ships. Similarly during the Russo-Japanese war, it was recalled by officials today, there were designed by Japan 12 "strategic areas" certain rules were promulgated for the treatment of neutral ships in those zones and something of the same character is expected to result in the present situation.

Disregard German Threat.

High officials here did not believe, as some German papers have intimated, that the German government intends deliberately to destroy neutral vessels in the war zone. Rules of international law, it was pointed out, call for careful search of a neutral vessel to determine how much of its cargo is contraband and even then, the ship can be destroyed only in case of emergency and on the confident assumption that it would have been condemned as a prize.

While in many quarters the action of Germany was referred to as a "blockade," technically the designation of war zones is an entirely different matter. Neutral vessels under a blockade are absolutely forbidden from entering the blockaded areas, but under German proclamation, there is no

Allied Aviators Force German Commander to Move Headquarters

GENEVA, Switzerland (via Paris), Feb. 5.—General von Hindenburg, chief commander of the German operations in Poland, has been forced to move his headquarters from Lodz to a new location near the city of Poznan, according to reports from the front. The German commander was forced to move his headquarters because of the success of Allied aviators in attacking his communication lines. RUSSIANS SMASH TEUTON LINES IN POLAND; NOW MENACE GERMAN REAR

Gigantic Flanking Movement in Progress to Trap General Von Hindenburg's Army

One of Greatest Battles of War Is Now Raging West of Warsaw; Muscovites and Austro-Germans Still Locked in Death Grapple in Carpathians; Allies Reply to Offensive Campaign in West

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Coinciding with the arrival at the front of Emperor Nicholas, the Russians have assumed the offensive directly west of Warsaw, and, according to a Russian official statement, have crossed the Bzura river and taken some German positions. This, in the opinion of military experts, will, if the Russians have sufficient forces at their disposal, break the deadlock which has existed in the battle in central Poland for many weeks, since it threatens the flank of General von Hindenburg's army, which is engaged in a violent struggle immediately to the southwest in an effort to break down the Russian defensive in the region of Borkow.

The Russians appear, according to reports from Petrograd, to have crossed the Bzura near its junction with the Vistula, and, working southward, have taken part of the German position near Dakhova, south of Sochaczew, which was the point at which the Germans made their original attempt to break the Warsaw line.

This new offensive on the part of the Russians explains their anxiety to clear the right bank of the lower Vistula of the Germans, for having accomplished this, they are free of threats of an outflanking movement from that direction.

Desperate Battle Raging.

Still there has been no slackening in the desperate fighting which has been proceeding for some days in the woods and roads along the right bank of the Bzura river from Borkow to the Skiermiewice-Warsaw road. Here attacks of the Germans alternate with those of the Russians under an artillery fire whose violence has never been exceeded.

In the meantime, the Russians are making slow progress in East Prussia and are withstanding the attempts of the Austro-German forces to take the offensive on the river Nida in southern Poland and on the Tarnobrzeg-Galicia line. The Austrians, an important center possession of which by the Russians, is the main line of communication in west Galicia.

In the midst of the snows of the Carpathians, the two armies still are contending for the passes which lead into Hungary. The Austro-German forces drove the Russians back from the passes which they had occupied on their extreme right in the west of Poland, but elsewhere the Russians claim to be making progress or, at any rate, to be holding their own.

Allies Begin New Move.

Anglo-American and a few small infantry attacks make up the sum of the operations on the western front. These indications, however, that the allies are preparing the way for an offensive movement in the Arras region where quite extraordinary gains have been made and where they have captured some German trenches. In the Argonne region, too, the French claim to have improved their position.

The failure of the Turks in their preliminary attack on the Suez canal gives a good deal of satisfaction in England, as it is felt that the territorial and Australasian troops engaged there have proved their mettle. The Turkish lack was only in the form of a feint, and it is expected that the British will be able to capture the Suez canal in the near future.

The bridges over the Moselle were burned by the French when they retreated. The Germans built pontoon bridges and consequently water transportation is absolutely out of it in a large territory. A messenger walked 150 miles from Sedan to Namur bearing a message from the mayor of the former place to the relief commission. The message said:

"In the name of the 12,000 inhabitants of Sedan, I have the honor of bringing to your notice the following conditions: After six months of war without respite we have now reached the extreme state and are dying of hunger and sickness for want of nourishment and medicine. Therefore, I appeal to you in behalf of my fellow citizens. I know beforehand that it will be sufficient to inform you briefly that your great republic is a sister of France, may do all in her power to help us in this calamity which is besetting us without your aid. Receive for yourself and the American government our greatest thanks for your generous and noble work."

(Signed) "W. MOLLIER"

Horrible Conditions.

The commission sent an inspector to Sedan and he also visited many other towns finding appalling conditions along the Moselle and Seine rivers. At great crowds gathered about the motor cars bearing the commission's report and pleading for bread. The large number of people who were in the town were virtually starving and were unable to get any food from the stores.

As the railway was operating it carried three carloads of food each day. The food was distributed after the arrival of the first train. The commission's report was a great help to the people of Sedan. The commission's report was a great help to the people of Sedan.

FOOD PROBLEM IN AUSTRIA IS BECOMING CRITICAL

VIENNA, Feb. 5.—(Saturday). An official decree issued in Vienna today provides for a two-point loaf of bread from 16 cents to 14 cents. The grain markets in Austria are said to be in a desperate condition. The war bread that is being sold is composed largely of substitutes for flour.

The people in Vienna are said to be complaining of the constantly increasing price of meat. There are reports to be almost unbelievable.

Sec. Bryan Tells Railroad Men What He Thinks of Them

Declares Corporations Should Take Public Into Their Confidence, Squeeze Water Out of Stock and Eliminate Unfair Business Practices.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 5. - Charging that the "railroads do not treat the public with full honesty and sincerity," William J. Bryan, secretary of state, spoke on "The Railroads' Relation to the Business World," at the annual banquet of the Transportation club here tonight. He told his audience, which was largely composed of railroad men, that all reform railroad legislation had been brought about against the wishes of the railroads. He denounced "watered stock" and declared that the railroads should have enough surplus "paid by" to pay dividends.

Twenty years ago when he and other men were fighting against rebates and other evils, he said, they were denounced as "demagogues." He had the support of only two railroad presidents when he ran for president, the secretary said, yet he bore the railroads no malice. "This is the first chance I have had to speak as I have wanted to to railroad men," he said.

The men who have made their fortunes out of railroads, but in being dishonest with their own companies, they have manipulated the stock market for years and have forced the small stockholders to sell out their holdings under financial strain.

He deplored the fact that "many railroad presidents are much better paid than the president of the United States. I don't be afraid of the people," was Mr. Bryan's advice to the railroads.

"You are not your enemies, they are your friends. Evils in this country have not been eradicated until the plain people of the country have done it. You railroad men will not the ones to correct the mistakes upon which your systems were built."

Go About It in Wrong Way.

"If instead of sending lobbyists to the state legislatures and to congress, the railroads would send their presidents and officials to the country, would look with greater favor on them. Every step that has been taken in the way of railroad reform legislation has been taken by the interest of bringing the railroads and the country closer together, and not for the purpose of shielding the railroads. And the railroads themselves have come to realize the justice in the reforms that have been made in abolishing rebates and passes. These measures were either compelled by the railroads and their authority, or a demagogue and an anarchist, but now the railroads would not want to go back to them."

Mr. Bryan declared that one of the present practices of railroads at the present time is the "watering of stock."

FOREIGN DIPLOMATS MAY LEAVE MEXICO

Not Respected by Carranza Officials; Serious Friction Has Arisen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. - Withdrawal from Mexico City of many foreign legations was imminent tonight because of friction between the Carranza government and the diplomatic corps.

Some of the prominent diplomatic representatives of European countries already have called their home governments suggesting that it is inadvisable to maintain legations in Mexico City.

As the American embassy has been closed since the rupture with the Huerta government, the action on the part of the other diplomatic missions is being considered without consulting the United States, so far as is known.

The plan of the diplomatic corps in Mexico City, which is understood to be acting as a unit, is to leave affairs in Mexico in charge of consular officers. This would mean practically a severance of diplomatic relations by all countries and present a unique status for Mexico in the family of nations.

Situation Embarrassing.

The situation in the Mexican capital has been replete with diplomatic embarrassments since the changes in executive authority ensued. When General Carranza, in his capacity as first chief of the Constitutional army, first abandoned Mexico City and moved his capital to Vera Cruz, he invited the diplomatic corps to accompany him. The diplomats declined, asserting that such a step might be construed as a recognition of his government.

Some of the embassies here tried a few days ago to communicate with their missions in Mexico City and had the messages returned to them. Since then there has been a modification of the embargo on code messages. So far as is known the City of Mexico is quiet.

It became known tonight that some of the diplomats at Mexico City suggested that they go to Vera Cruz, not as an act tending to imply recognition of Carranza, but because of unsettled conditions and scarcity of food in the capital.

France Appreciates Aid of United States

PARIS, Feb. 5. - The American war relief clearing house has perfected the organization of an advisory committee to aid in the distribution of relief supplies received from the United States.

The patronage of President Poincaré, King Albert of Belgium, King Peter of Serbia and King Nicholas of Montenegro has been obtained for the committees in those countries which will assist in relief work.

General Hanotaux, president of the Franco-American committee for the development of political, economic, literary and art relations, in the name of the allies, expressed today thanks to the members of the clearing house for the aid rendered by the people of the United States and suggested that some celebration of gratitude be given to the United States government, to the New York committee, and to Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France from the United States, for their assistance.

ENGLAND CONSIDERS GERMAN NOTE BLUFF

London Papers Ask Why Fleet Has Not Done Something Before

LONDON, Feb. 5. - (Saturday) - While the German threat of a blockade has created a great wave of indignation among the newspapers and the public, it is regarded by many high officials as a bluff. It is claimed that, with the small number of war vessels at the disposal of Germany, it will be quite impossible to make the blockade effective, and it is argued that had Germany been able to interfere with British transports carrying troops to France, she already would have done so.

So far as shippers are concerned, little alarm appears to be felt. At Lloyd's the underwriters viewed the threat calmly and made little change in the war risk rates.

Inquiries at Liverpool, Glasgow and other ports show that no change is contemplated in sailing schedules, most of the companies stating that it is their intention to carry on business as usual unless stopped by admiralty orders.

Great interest is shown in the question of how neutral countries will view the threat, and extensive extracts from comments in American and other foreign newspapers are published here.

Press Ridicules Note.

LONDON, Feb. 5. - (Saturday) - The Daily Mail, in an editorial, ridicules the German "admiralty" statement. "What particularly tickled the world's sense of humor," says the Daily Mail, "is the crudity of the attempt to frighten, not only Great Britain, but the United States. There has been nothing like it since Napoleon issued his Berlin decree."

The Daily Chronicle deprecates the threat. "The Times" naval correspondent says it is "a parody of the British communication, closing the North sea, but threatening neutral vessels instead of offering to assist them, as did the British order."

The Times naval expert continues: "Much rubbish is being written about the use of neutral flags by merchantmen. There is no necessity for the admiralty to give any order on this subject, and I believe none has been given. The custom of the sea and many precedents admit, however, of a merchantman flying a neutral flag when endeavoring to escape from an enemy."

Not many years ago Great Britain acknowledged this right when she herself a neutral, and if our ships should neutrally flag to evade the attentions of hostile submarines, they will have the law on their side."

DENVER WOMAN VISITS SON. THEN KILLS SELF

DENVER, Feb. 5. - Mrs. Minnie Hazlett, 32, died today shortly after she had been picked up unconscious in a clump of weeds not far from city park. She had left the home of her son, Warren J. Hazlett, membership secretary of the Denver Y. M. C. A., some time during the night, after writing a note in which she said she was about to commit suicide. It is not known whether she had taken poison or had become exhausted while wandering about the streets in a demented condition. The note indicated that Mrs. Hazlett had become possessed with a belief that her life was a failure.

SIX INDICTED FOR PASSPORT FRAUDS

Government Agent Trapped Alleged Conspirators by Clever Knave

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. - The federal grand jury returned two indictments today charging conspiracy against the United States on the part of certain persons in obtaining fraudulently from the state department, passports for German reservists and volunteers. The grand jury returned only a partial report and, it is assumed, will continue its investigation.

Those named in the indictments are Hans Adam von Wedell, Carl Rueden, Arthur Spake, August B. Meyer, Walter Mullen and Herman Wegener. "The suspect, John Auer," the indictment states, "is really Albert C. Adams, a special agent of the department of justice, who, at the time of the arrest of the defendants, made a pretense of resisting arrest, and was held in default of $20,000 to deceive the conspirators, who, it is charged, had paid him $500 for obtaining passports bearing the name of Herbert S. Wilson, Stanley F. Martin and Edgar Lund."

Maurice Deiches, the lawyer, who was arrested in Philadelphia, January 2, was not named as defendant in the indictments.

The defendant von Wedell, the indictment states, is believed to be interned in an alien enemy camp in England. Von Wedell, it is charged, paid John P. Corrigan, formerly in charge of the mayor's license bureau, $15 for two blank applications.

According to the indictment, the conspirators were formed on November 1, 1914, and, in furtherance of them, von Wedell opened headquarters at a club house here. Von Wedell is believed to have escaped on the Norwegian liner Bergensford, which was held up by a revenue cutter when it started for Norway. Although the vessel was searched, he was missed, the indictment states, while other defendants were taken off. The indictment states that the Norwegian liner was afterward held up by a British cruiser and that one of the four men taken from it and placed in a detention camp is believed to have been von Wedell.

CARRANZA CHIEF GUEST AT VERA CRUZ AFFAIR

VERA CRUZ, Feb. 5. - Gen. Venustiano Carranza was the principal guest at the celebration held here tonight on the occasion of the anniversary of the promulgation of the constitution of 1857. Storm Abates in Nebraska; Trains Are Running Late

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 5. - Snow ceased falling in the storm-swept sections of central and northwestern Nebraska today, while trains on the lines of the Burlington railroad and that of the Northwestern were trying to buck their way through the drifts piled to a height never before exceeded, according to trainmen.

The main line of the Burlington to the northwest was opened this evening and traffic is moving, although behind time. On branch lines the conditions are little improved over last night. Northwest of the town of Greeley, a local passenger train, which became stalled "this afternoon," was still fast in the drifts tonight. Fifteen of 30 passengers aboard are being supplied with food by farmers, who also are hauling coal to keep the coaches warm. Freight traffic is abandoned on branch lines and little is moving on main lines.

"The combats on the Buzna and Rukva rivers continue with undiminished energy. Our troops began an offensive movement, crossed the Buzna near its mouth, captured a portion of the enemy's position near Dakhova and dislodged the Germans from their bridgehead."

"In the vicinity of Borjilow, Goumine and Wola Szydlowka, our attack of the enemy under an unbroken artillery fire."

"On the remainder of the left bank of the Vistula front, south of the Skiernewice-Warsaw railway, the artillery firing has diminished somewhat."

"We flew up a bridge on the Nida which had been constructed by the enemy near the village of Gerniki and repulsed some attempts by the enemy to launch an offensive on the Nida near Rembowol and on the bank of the Dounaetz opposite the bridge head of Coner."

"In the northwest Carpathians, in the direction of Oulok, we continued the offensive and took as many as 2,000 prisoners. To the southeast, our troops are still being submitted to very high pressure by the enemy's forces."

Union Depot Under Water and Railroads Forced to Change Their Operations in the City

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 5. - The union depot of several railroads here will be vacated tomorrow on account of a prediction of a flood stage of 55 feet. The roads were making preparations tonight to use their suburban stations for passenger traffic. Freight movements will not be seriously hampered.

The rising waters of the Ohio river tore from its moorings today a coal fleet of 25 loaded and 15 empty barges. The government snagboat E. A. Woodruff was caught by the barges and swept down the river, as were several shanty boats, which sank. Men and women occupying them had narrow escapes from drowning.

The Woodruff and most of the barges were saved. The snagboat entered homes and business houses in the lower part of the city. Charitable organizations are prepared to relieve those in distress.

Intermittent rain today and tonight did not change the situation according to the weather forecast, which repeated tonight that the crest of the flood, 55 feet, would be reached some time tomorrow.

TOKIO, Feb. 5. - An official report received in Tokio on the loss of the Japanese cruiser Asama, off the western coast of Lower California, says that all the officers and members of the crew of the warship have been saved.

The Asama struck an uncharted rock off the northwestern coast of the Mexican republic. The extent of the damage to the steamer is not known, nor anything he said as to the probabilities of saving her. The absence in Tokio of direct news from the Asama suggests that the wireless has been disabled.

SOLUTION OF SHIP BILL ROW IN SIGHT

Democrats Now Have Plan to Throw Measure Back on the Republicans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Administration Democrats of the senate believed tonight they had found a way to turn the bill of the ship purchase bill fight back to the Republican side, where it was shifted to their own shoulders so suddenly last Monday by the alliance of insurgent Democrats and minority members.

Despite the fact that they found themselves still lacking votes to carry a motion to recommit the bill with instructions for its amendment, the Democrats inaugurated today the first move in a substitute plan when Senator Gore who introduced an amended ship bill yesterday, moved to discharge the committee from its consideration. The champions of the bill, after a careful survey of the situation today believed they can get votes enough to carry the Gore motion and in that way the amended bill, which virtually is the caucus measure with changes designed to draw support from the progressive Republicans can be reported back to the senate and thereby force the Republicans to resume their defensive fight to prevent the bill from coming to a final vote.

In view of this situation, the allied opposition forces determined today upon a rest and had enough votes to force a recess of the senate until Monday.

If on Monday the Democratic leaders find that they have enough votes, counting on the vice president in case of a tie, they will attempt to get the vote on the motion to recommit with instructions.

There were many rumors today that the bill may be laid aside after strenuous efforts to pass it within the next week, so that appropriation measures may be considered.

Today the senate was enlightened by speeches of insurgent and regular Democrats rehearsing the revolt over the bill. Senators Hardwick and Vandaman vigorously defended their positions in repelling and assailed Senator Stone for his attack upon them. Senator James again criticized his colleagues and arraigned Senator Camden, who, he said, would "hold up the hands of the president while the Republicans tied them."

penalty or obstacle directly placed against the passage of neutral ships through a war zone after giving warnings against the dangers that exist there. In effect a neutral vessel enters the dangerous area at its own risk, a situation somewhat analogous to the mine-strewn fields of the North sea though destruction by a submarine, whose nationality could be ascertained, would differ in legal consequences from the explosion of a contact mine, responsibility for the laying of which never might be fixed.

Counter-Move by Germany.

The German admiralty's notice it was contended at the German embassy, is the natural result of the British attitude toward foodstuffs intended for Germany. While nothing further had been revealed at the embassy than the text of the order, and this not directly from the foreign office but through war press reports sent by the Sayville wireless station, it was made plain that the intention of the order, as understood here, is to prevent the entrance of food into England. The German understanding of the situation seems to be, it was explained, that it is the purpose of Great Britain not only to stop the cargo of food on the steamer Wilhelmina, but to seize other cargoes. While none of the neutral embassies and legations had instructions from their home governments today, it was suggested by some of the diplomats "whose countries had been active in following up shipping interference with neutral nations, that it was unlikely that a change from the policy of protesting in specific cases only would be made. The possibility of a joint protest by neutrals was discussed informally at some length in diplomatic quarters but without official sanction.

It was stated at the legation of the Netherlands that a conference would be held tomorrow between the minister Chevalier Van Rappard and officials of the state department in order to ascertain the probable action of this government.

Efforts to aid the situation characterized by the situation is extremely serious for all neutrals whose ships ordinarily pass the war zone under some and especially for Holland whose entire coast line is affected.

FAHEY HEADS U. S. CHAMBER COMMERCE

Ambassador Naon, Argentina, Urges Neutralization of Ships of America

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Election of officers by the new board of directors brought to a close tonight the annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Sessions of the convention during the last three days had been marked by notable speeches and debates on the country's business situation, with particular reference to the effect of the European war on foreign trade.

John H. Fahey of Boston was re-elected president, and other officers were chosen as follows: Honorary vice presidents, Henry C. Wheeler, Chicago, A. B. Farquhar, York, Pa.

Vice presidents, Robert F. Maddox, Atlanta, Ga., Henry E. Corbett, Portland, Ore., (both re-elected); Treasurer, John J. Edeon, Washington, D. C.

Chairman of the executive committee, R. G. Rhett, Charleston, S. C. At the final session, E. A. Filene of Boston, vice president of the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce, advocated the establishment of indemnity societies to guarantee the delivery of American goods to foreigners as represented in selling and the adoption of a copyrighted stamp by American trade organizations to mark goods sold abroad by their members.

A feature of the session was an appeal of Ambassador Naon of the Argentine republic, for the complete neutralization of ships plying between belligerent nations, so that they would not be subject to detention or search by belligerents.

Urges Complete Neutralization.

"I maintain that the complete neutralization of inter-American commerce," said he, "ought to be recognized and I entertain the hope, or more than that I may say, I feel the certainty, that we would be able to have the countries at war agree in establishing a rule that during the present war no vessel engaged exclusively in the trade between American ports shall be subject to search, detention or capture by a belligerent no matter what flag she flies so long as she is engaged in that commerce."

"With such a rule we should be able to obtain all the vessels we need for the promotion of our commerce with the United States and the other American republics to the maximum, developing as a consequence of our friendly relations with all of them and lessening the sorrowful conditions created by that war."

The need of immediate expansion in the commercial relations between the United States and Argentina was voiced by Mr. Naon.

In a discussion of trade expansion and the European war Edward Filene of Boston outlined how he thought American business men could participate in bringing about peace.

"It becomes apparent that great exertion and great expense for foreign trade expansion must be accompanied by at least equal exertion to make the terms of settlement of the present great war such that Europe will not remain an armed camp," he said. "As responsible business men, we should ask ourselves: What can we do, what can the United States, to help bring about the right terms of settlement of the war? This struggle is so fierce that at present there seems to be no opportunity for any outside interference, however well intended."

If the United States is to have any direct influence in the terms of settlement of the war, such influence will depend largely on the faith the warring nations have in our fairness and justice. We must play the game straight and not try to take unfair advantages of the present export trade helplessness of any of the fighting nations."

A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. ASKS THAT LIBERTY BELL BE SENT TO FRISCO FAIR

At a meeting of the city council yesterday Mayor McKesson was authorized to request the mayor and council of Philadelphia to send the Liberty bell to the San Francisco exposition this year. If the request is granted, the famous relic will be exhibited in Colorado Springs en route. The action was taken at the request of the San Francisco officials. It is considered improbable, however, that the Philadelphia officials will consent to send the bell across the continent, chiefly because of fear that it will be damaged.

Mystery of LaLone Family Tragedy Solved Asphyxiation Cause, Declares Food Expert

John Lynch, state pure food commissioner, in a report submitted to District Attorney Purcell of this city yesterday, declared that the death of Frank LaLone, his wife and four children in the Karval district some weeks ago was caused by asphyxiation from coal gas, which accumulated in the room because the damper of the stove had been left closed during the night.

The case is one of the most unusual ever dealt with by local or state authorities, and no solution or trace of a solution of the apparent mystery was found until after the most minute investigation. The testimony of the one little girl who survived, Gladys, aged 11, showed that there was no apparent motive for suicide, as the family had spent the evening in dancing and singing the night before the tragedy. A careful examination of all foodstuffs showed the absence of poison. Such was the status of the case a week ago.

Carbon Dioxide Found.

At the direction of Mr. Lynch, Inspector David Long then made a trip to the home of the LaLones, which is 37 miles south of Chicago. The bedchamber was gas-tight and had been taken to Denver for examination by Dr. L. C. Hill, who found in the blood stains on the floor the appearance produced by carbon dioxide in the blood. A further investigation of circumstances proved that his theory was correct.

The daughter, which the LaLones lived was partly underground. The door and two windows were above ground and the sides of the room were cemented in. The night before the family were found dead a bottle of potatoes had been placed on the stove to cook. In order that they might not burn, the damper of the stove was closed. The carbon dioxide thrown off by the coal could not escape by the chimney. A kerosene lamp was left burning after the family had gone to bed, which absorbed a great deal of oxygen and also threw off a certain amount of poisonous fumes.

Coal Gas Near Floor.

Coal gas is heavier than air and stays in the bottom of a room. Since the window and the door were five feet above the level of the floor, and since the one escape for the gas, the damper of the stove, was closed, the result was the asphyxiation of the family.

"The escape from death of one member of the family might seem at first thought to exclude gas poisoning, but there are many such well-authenticated cases in toxicologic records," says Dr. Hill in his report. "Taking into consideration the negative findings as to poisons, the spectroscopic character of one of the blood stains and the reports made to me by Dr. Rothwell, Dr. McCartney and Inspector Long, I conclude that the deaths resulted from asphyxiation due to inhalation of gases from the stove."

CHIROPRACTIC A CURE FORM OF OSTEOPATHY IN DISGUISE

Says Dr. Frank Fitzgerald, Osteopath, 207 Hagerman Bldg., Colorado Springs, Colo.

I observe that the Chiropractors are trying in Colorado, to do what they tried to do in Kansas in 1913. That is they are trying to be licensed to practice Osteopathy under the name of Chiropractic.

They claim that Chiropractic is a new science, a new school of medicine or healing.

A school of medicine or healing, to be a distinct school, must have definite and distinct principles, all its own, upon which to base its practice.

For example, the basic principles of Allopathy are distinct and opposite from the basic principles of Homeopathy, and so the world recognizes the Allopathic and the Homeopathic schools of medicine.

"Surely no one would think it right to pass a law, legalizing a new (?) school of medicine, so-called, to practice Allopathy or Homeopathy.

Let those who would practice Allopathy, graduate from an Allopathic College.

And let those who would practice Osteopathy, graduate from an Osteopathic College.

We, the Chiropractors of Colorado, ask the same consideration at the hands of our legislators as would be given any school of medicine, if some illiterate, incompetent bunch of people was trying to set in on its practice, through deception and misrepresentation.

An examination of the basic principle of Chiropractic shows that it is the basic principle of Osteopathy.

Chiropractic has no basic principles of its own, and therefore, has nothing upon which to base a new science or a new school of medicine.

It is a matter of history, that Dr. A. T. Still discovered the basic principles of Osteopathy in 1877, quit his medical practice, and adjusted peoples bones, especially the bones of the spinal column, as a cure for many diseases. Why did Dr. Still adjust the bones of the spine? Because he discovered that subluxated vertebrae are a cause of disease. It is a matter of history, that Dr. Still confining to adjust peoples bones for 17 years or until 1891, when he founded the American School of Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo. The American School of Osteopathy has always taught and is now teaching the bony lesion theory of disease, and therefore, teaching the scientific adjustment of the various tissues, fluids, and forces of the human body. Special attention is given to the adjustment of the spine.

R. J. Palmer of Davenport, Iowa, claims that his father discovered the basic principle of Osteopathy in 1855. And has based the practice of Chiropractic upon the said principle. If Palmer had called his practice a crude form of Osteopathy, in disguise, he would have been telling what Chiropractic really is, and what every Chiropractor knows it to be.

When the Chiropractic College, Davenport, Iowa, was organized, it was called the American School of Osteopathy. Palmer now has a change to disguise the basic principles of Chiropractic. Disguise the system by giving it a new name, evade the laws regulating the practice of Osteopathy in the various states, and furnish a cheap short course, 90 days, that would allow an army of illiterates and incompetents to practice a new science or a new school of medicine.

Chiropractic is nothing more or less than a crude form of Osteopathy in disguise.

Auto Road Completed to Cave of the Winds

The new auto-road to the Cave of the Winds was completed yesterday at a cost of about $3,000. It is a mile and a half long, and winds through the hills, beginning at Judge Williams' cottage in Manitou, until it reaches the cave. Men have been working on it since October 1, 1913. There is a solid foundation of stone. It may be called the Skyline drive.

Work on a supplementary road, which will connect with the Pass near Rainbow Falls, will be started at once. It is expected to have it finished by March 1 and ready for travel at that time.

It will be half a mile long, and is to cost about $3,000.

COSSACKS READY TO GO TO FRONT

BRITONS HAVE VERY LITTLE TROUBLE TRAVELING IN EUROPE

LONDON, Feb. 5.—That it is not impossible for English people to make their way through Germany and Austria is shown by the return to London of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lantay after a business trip to Vienna. Mr. Lantay had important business interests in Austria, which two months after the war began, demanded his presence in Vienna. He had made the trip so often in times of peace that he scoffed at his friends' warnings of the likelihood of imprisonment and possible death as a spy. He took his wife with him, and proceeded in his accustomed manner across Germany. They were not molested, and remained in Vienna nearly three months, making no particular effort to conceal themselves. Their return was made by another route, but was accomplished without accident. Mrs. Lantay thus described her adventure:

"Of course we did not report ourselves, but simply lived in Vienna. We would have got into trouble, no doubt, if the authorities had known the circumstances, but my husband, being of Austrian parentage, although a naturalized Englishman, was able to carry things through."

"It is really remarkable the kindness with which English people are treated in Vienna. In the shops, I found it possible to do my trading in English, which almost all the attendants speak fluently. The feeling among the people whom I met seemed to be friendly toward the English and an English lady who is teaching in the schools told me that she notices no diminution in the number of pupils studying the English language."

"Within the past two or three weeks, the military authorities in Vienna have begun to tighten the restrictions surrounding aliens. At present, I believe, no alien enemy is allowed to go out after 8 o'clock in the evening; they are not allowed to enter theaters and coffee houses, and violations of the alien enemy restrictions are punishable with a fine of $400."

"Vienna has begun to feel the pressure of the war very severely. The city is one high hospital, and the many restrictions the children cannot go to school because the buildings are required for hospital purposes. The university buildings and the parliament house are also being used for hospitals. In the streets, one needs hardly anything but wounded soldiers and civilians in mourning."

"The prices of everyday commodities are rising rapidly, and the supply is being so safeguarded that it is impossible to obtain any more than a supply for a day or two. The big loaf of bread which used to be sold for a cent or two has dwindled in size until it is barely three inches around, and the price is four cents. Meat is very expensive and petroleum is six cents for a half pint. Dress materials, which Vienna used to obtain mostly from London, are scarcely obtainable at any price."

LEGAL PROCEDURE IN FRANCE DISORGANIZED

PARIS, Feb. 5.—Legal procedure in France has been disorganized by the war. Lawyers and witnesses in many civil suits are at the front; many of them have fallen in battle and no one can now anticipate the extent to which cases may be confused by the disappearance of parties as well as witnesses and attorneys.

Maitre Chenu, the eloquent attorney for the Calmette family in the Calmette case, and former chief of the order of advocates of the Parisian bar, says that death certificates are such an essential element in all legal procedure concerning inheritances, and there have been already, and will be so many more, unknown dead, that the number of probable tangled estates is incalculable. "For the moment," Maitre Chenu adds, "judicial life in France is almost entirely interrupted and will continue to languish until the end of hostilities. We don't regret it. Legal quarrels would seem to us to be an attack upon the sacred pact of union that the war has sealed between all the citizens of France."

The business of civil courts is almost entirely confined to the sequestration of the property of German and Austrian subjects and the list, already long, grows every day, showing that the number established in business in France was far underestimated. Instead of the 20,000 sequestrations anticipated the number may reach nearer 50,000.

The practical suspension of court proceedings gives Maitre Chenu leisure to use his pen and in the Parisian press he is starting no effort to defend the justice of the French cause.

CHINAMEN ELECTROCUTED FOR MURDER IN TONG

OSWING, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Lee Kook and Eng Hing, Chinese, were put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison early today. Both Chinese were members of the Hui Sing tong. They were convicted of the murder of Lee Kay, the aged leader of the tin pound tong on February 11, 1912.

Spies Masquerading as Nurses in England

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Nursing Mirror, one of the organs of trained nurses in England, calls attention to the danger of spies masquerading as nurses, and adds that Lord Kitchener, himself aware of this menace, caused an investigation to be made at one of the Southampton hospitals some weeks ago.

There he found, according to the journal, that four women had been discovered in the matter of discussing matters relative to the army. While they were not spies, they showed a little common sense that they were disinterested.

On the other side of the channel the state of affairs has been more serious. Two nurses were recently found to be engaged in espionage. Both were Americans with German sympathies, according to the Nursing Mirror, and both, it says, were eventually dealt with. It is said that the matter was not made public.

But the danger is not over. The fact that a nurse is a spy is a serious matter, and the fact that a nurse is a spy is a serious matter, and the fact that a nurse is a spy is a serious matter.

CANAL ZONE ENGINEERS NOW ARE OPTIMISTIC

PANAMA, Feb. 5.—Canal engineers here are optimistic regarding the resumption of the canal through the cause of the Russian government at

Cuba section, where the slides recently occurred. For the past month dredging operations have been more than able to keep abreast of the incoming sea and there is no longer any serious anxiety about securing a safe passage to battleships during the formal opening of the canal on March 5.

Colonel Gottlieb and the other canal engineers are of the opinion that at least a year's hard and steady dredging will be necessary before all movements of earth will have ceased. Notwithstanding the handicap of the slides, traffic through the waterway is increasing as is shown by the tolls collected.

YALE MOTTO IS MADE TO READ BLASPHEMERS AND FARMERS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 5.—Many Yale alumni are surprised and scandalized by the motto of the Yale Agricultural Society, which reads: "Blasphemers and Farmers." The Hebrew characters of the motto, "Ligei veit Tord," have been made to read "Blasphemers and Farmers." The Yale Alumni Weekly calls attention to this "scandalous" motto in its issue today. The society was made up of the Hebrew students of the Yale divinity school, the Hebrew characters were used.

TIGERS WILL MEET MINES TONIGHT IN SPIRITED CONTEST

Colorado College Team in Trim for Clash; Second Game in Intercollegiate

The second game in the intercollegiate baseball series will be held tonight at 8:15 o'clock in Coors stadium. The Tigers line up against the speedy quintet from the school of Mines. The Tigers have been working hard to improve their form, and the coaches are optimistic for the team's success.

The lineup of team work in last week's game was largely responsible for the defeat of the Tigers, while they also lost several points through nervousness. The men have been working with particular reference to overcoming both of these faults, and have succeeded in doing so to a large extent.

With Turner back in the game again the team will be strengthened, as he is proficient in passing and dribbling. The five miners present a speedy little aggregation and will be fully as dangerous as the Boulder men were last week.

The following players will be used during the evening: Holman and Gleason, centers; Shaffer, Williams, Taylor and Turner, guards; and Altmack, Liljestrom, Peterson and Shepherd. The lineup probably will be as follows: Peterson and Liljestrom, forwards; Holman, center and Shaffer and Turner, guards.

A large attendance is expected, and the regular prices of 25 and 35 cents will prevail.

MACK WINS FROM KOLB IN TWO STRAIGHT FIGHTS

Local Grappler Throws Omaha Man in First Bout by Cradle; Hammerlock Wins Match

Jimmy Mack, the local welterweight grappler, threw Homer Kolb of Omaha, Neb., at the Temple theater, in two straight falls last night. The Springs man disposed of his opponent in less than 11 minutes for the first fall, which he secured with a cradle hold. A hammerlock and scissors gained him the second fall in seven minutes.

The match, which was refereed by Tommy Cosgrove, proved rather a tame affair, and it will take more interesting and speedy exhibitions to bring the wrestling game up to the proper standard in Colorado Springs. On account of the small audience, the preliminaries were omitted.

Kolb seemed to be the faster of the two men, but his speed proved his own undoing, and he walked into a couple of holds inadvertently. He outwrestled Mack by several points. The stranger very nearly threw him in the second bout, when he rolled into a hold, and if he had not let Mack before the referee gave a decision, might have secured a fall.

Nat Leonard, 112-pound boxer, who has been in the east for several months, appeared at the match and will soon be looking for opponents. He will be managed by Cosgrove.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS CASTLE ROCK TEAM IN RAGGED BASKETBALL GAME

Terrors Loom Up as Possible Interscholastic Champions With Victory Over Strangers; Game Marred by Wrangling

By GORDON DAVIS

The Terrors managed to squeeze out a victory from the castle rock quintet last night at the Y-M-C-A. by a score of 26-24. Throughout the game the score seemed to be a dead heat, and it was not until the final minutes that the Terrors were known to be the victors.

The game, although close, was not up to the usual standard. The contest was marred by the refereeing of Adams of Castle Rock. He didn't seem to be familiar with the rules and, time after time, when the ball went out of bounds, he failed to blow the whistle. Two minutes before the game was over it looked as if things were going to end abruptly over a disputed basket thrown by Captain Thompson. The score was 22-20 in favor of Castle Rock, and Thompson threw a basket, making the score 24-22. A moment later T. Thompson threw a basket, which the referee claimed didn't count, on the grounds that the player was out of bounds when the ball was thrown. The Terrors claimed that the basket should count because the whistle had not sounded until the ball was in the air. In the meantime, Shadford, the umpire, called a foul on Castle Rock and awarded the Terrors one point. After considerable argument, the case was taken to Coach Rothberg of the Terrors, who decided that the ball was thrown from fair territory. This made the score 25-22 in favor of the locals, and F. Thompson threw the foul, adding one more point for them. Castle Rock only shot one more basket in the remaining time, and this was made by Strange, who, by the way, tips the scales at 200 pounds at least. Standing in the middle of the floor, he threw the most spectacular goal of the evening. The game ended with the score standing 26-24.

The basket shooting on both sides was rather ragged. The High school crew time after time only to have the ball roll around the basket and then bounce out. Barnes in particular had "hard luck" with his throwing. Many times he thought he had made a goal, but the ball seemed to find a way out. The passing was also a little wild on both sides. The Terrors proved the fastest team and, if they had been more accurate with their basket-throwing, the game would not have been as close.

If the game had not been so full of wrangling, disputing, rough tactics, it would have been decidedly more pleasing to the spectators.

This victory leaves the Terrors undefeated so far this season.

Last year the score between Castle Rock and the Terrors was 62-19.

The lineup was as follows:
Terrors: Barnes, R. Forward; Rentrup-Shippie, L. Forward; Simpson, Center; F. Thompson, G. Guard; T. Thompson (C), Hill, L. Guard.
The officials were: Adams of Castle Rock, referee; Shadford of Colorado Springs, umpire; St. John-Whittenburger of Colorado Springs, time-keeper; Bernard of Colorado Springs and Palmer of Castle Rock score-keepers. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

AMERICA WILL NOT ISSUE TENNIS CUP DEFIANCE IN 1915

European War Will Stop Annual Clash for Davis Cup; Wrote New President

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—America will issue no challenge this year for the International Davis cup, the United States Lawn Tennis association, decided at a meeting today, because England, France, Germany and Australia are eliminated by the war from tennis competition.

A roll call of delegates developed that those who favored moving the national championship tournament from Newport to New York controlled about one-fifth of the votes and prevailed.

As to ranking, it was decided after hot debate, that players should be rated on their season's play, irrespective of the championship, and that the Davis cup matches should be considered in the ranking.

Of $20,700 reported in the treasury of the association, $14,475 was received from Davis cup matches. The association owes Germany $355, which it has been asked to keep until after the war.

The unanimous election of officers resulted as follows:
President, R. D. Wrenn, New York; vice president, A. L. Hoskins, Philadelphia; secretary, R. P. Torrey, Clinton, N. Y.; treasurer, Richard Stevens, Hoboken, N. J.

Sectional delegates elected were: O. J. Salisbury, Unionmountain, Salt Lake City; L. D. Scott, Southern, Atlanta, Ga.; L. H. Waldner, Western, Chicago.

JOHNSON MAY NOT PASS OVER AMERICAN BORDER EN ROUTE FOR JUAREZ

Immigration Authorities Are on Watch for Black Pugilist; Uncle Sam to Enforce Rules

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 5.—Immigration authorities at El Paso, and along the border to the east and west of this city have received instructions from Washington to watch for Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, and to prevent his passing through the United States to Juarez where he is expected to fight Jess Willard on March 6. Orders have been issued by the supervising inspector of the Mexican border to all inspectors to apprehend Johnson, if he is caught in the United States.

It was learned here tonight that Johnson was due in Havana, Cuba, Wednesday but that the ship on which he is sailing is now two days overdue. Rough weather is believed to be the cause of the delay.

Jack Curley, head of the syndicate promoting the fight, today denied that terms had been reached with Eugene Corri, official referee of the Sporting club of London, Eng., to act as third man in the ring in the Johnson-Willard bout. Negotiations are still on but the terms of Corri are considered exorbitant and unless he agrees to a cut another selection will be made.

NEW TRIAL ORDERED IN PLAYERS FRATERNITY VS. BOSTON AMERICANS CASE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The appellate division today reversed a judgment of the supreme court and ordered a new trial in the case of the Baseball Players' Fraternity against the Boston American League club. The fraternity sued on the alleged claim of pitcher Kurt (Casey) M. Hageman for money due on a contract. The case was dismissed by a trial justice upon a motion of the defendant club's attorney.

Hageman signed a contract on September 18, 1911, with the Boston American league club for the season of 1912 at $400 a month. After playing one month with the Jersey City club of the International league, efforts were made to transfer him to Denver at $250 a month instead of $400. Hageman signed contracts, it is claimed, that gave the managers the right to shift him around and reduce his salary.

Justice Laughlin, writing the prevailing opinion, said that the contract made by Hageman with the Boston club was cancelled and drawn in the interest of the owners without much regard for the rights of the baseball player, and that the managers of the club had assigned his claim, and that the player had no right to transfer him to another club except at the salary named in the contract.

FOOTBALL COMMITTEE MAY CHANGE FORWARD PASS

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Although no important changes are expected to be made at the intercollegiate football rules committee at its annual meeting which began here tonight several suggestions have been discussed, one of which probably will have reference to the use of the forward pass. The meeting, which convened at a late hour will be continued tomorrow.

E. H. Hill of Dartmouth, chairman, and Walter Camp, Yale, secretary and editor, were present.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Wheat prices dashed backward today, after an advance of 10 cents above any height achieved in the present war. Extreme plunges from the top level amounted to 4 1/2, but a rebound followed, and the market closed with a slight gain of 1/2 cent compared with last night. German warnings of danger to neutral vessels approaching Great Britain from any side were chiefly the cause of the overthrow of advanced quotations of wheat. Although little, if any, heed was given until word came that shipping collisions were offering to resell wheat to Chicago and that freight room was being let on steamships to Europe. After this development traders here unloaded right and left. More liberal offerings of wheat from rural holders out a figure in discouraging at least temporarily the radical bulls. Some attention was also given to the fact that exports to Europe from Argentina were proving larger than had been expected, and were, in fact, heavier than at this time a year ago.

Corn, which closed 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 under last night's plainly showed an over-shipment of corn was offering to resell even while the wheat market was on the upgrade.

Oats gave way to the depression in other grain.

Lower prices for hogs carried down provisions.

INTEREST MIND AS WELL AS BODY

From Woman's World.
Most of the things we ask children to do, in the way of work or chores in the driest sense of the word; they are little bits of jobs we don't want to bother doing ourselves. Now, this isn't quite fair. It is hard to get deeply interested in the little part of a job. We all have heard to do things that we can do as the wee ones say, "all by lone." We love to start a thing and toil away at it and finish it, and see it in its final relation to the world's need. That is a most ennobling experience, to feel the need of something, even the smallest thing, and to go ahead on our own orders, and then all that need. Life seldom gives us any better joy than that.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Wheat prices fetched 59 shillings per quarter on the Lincoln market today, the highest price in upwards of half a century.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR AGE AND BIRTHDAY?

From the United States Public Service Bulletin.
How old are you? When were you born? See if you really know. See if your children know how old they are. Do not laugh at these simple questions until you try the test. Assume that you were born on March 16, and that you are 16 years old. In what year were you born?

According to a recent issue of the Public Health Reports, it is a common occurrence to find school children, even high school pupils, in the junior and senior years who cannot tell how old they are, or who, if they know their age, cannot tell accurately in what year they were born.

You will need this information when you apply for a marriage license, or in registering for voting, or in seeking a government position; or in case you claim that you are heir to a fortune that is going to some other person. You may have to go under oath as to your age when you pay your customs duties upon return from your next European trip, so you should practice up.

In some states there is no birth registration, so you may not be able to prove from the records that you ever were born. This might be embarrassing to you if you want to marry in Europe.

Perhaps the easiest way to remember your age is to form some jingle or rhyme on your birth year. For instance: "In 1897 little Johnnie came from heaven," or "In 1882 little Susie began to howl." Never mind what the rhyme is, just so you remember it and if, after reaching the age of 40, you want to prove that you are only 23 years old, just change the rhyme and perhaps people will believe you, when you repeat the jingle to prove your youth.

What the Press Agents Say

SHORTY'S ADVENTURES IN THE CITY

At the Empress today a two-reel Broncho featuring Shorty Hamilton in "Shorty's Adventures in the City" is the attraction. It's a delightful presentation of a cowboy's visit to the big city with a load of cattle, which, when disposed of, bring a wad of money and with this start Shorty goes to see the sights and visits the bright lights of a big city. What occurs to him and his money and the adventures which fall to his lot, bring forth many novel situations. Pathos, laughter and tears are combined in this great two-reel feature.

"An Old-Fashioned Girl," a majestic feature, is also on the bill. It's the first appearance of Dorothy Gish, the delightful little actress who was hurt in an automobile accident some six weeks ago, and we are sure her many friends will welcome her. Signe Owen and William Hinkley are costars with Miss Gish in this production. "Hogan the Porter" is a Keystone comedy, with Charlie Murray as the star, is a whimsical conception from the brain of Charlie and is a brain storm of laughter and jollity. It has many characters as Hogan, Murray excels, and the keynote of this characterization is laughter. Don't fail to see "Hogan the Porter" and have 15 minutes of joyous laughter.

INTERNATIONAL OPERATIC COMPANY

The press comment on the International company is of unusual importance. The Chronicle, Two Rivers, Wis., has the following to say, in part, about the company:

"Never was a large and appreciative audience better entertained than were the patrons of the lecture course last Thursday evening when the International Operatic company sang in a capacity house. The program consisted of the very best music ever heard here. There was not a cheap or silly song offered even in the encores which were called for after every number. If anyone had said that a Two Rivers audience would sit for two hours and breathlessly listen to vocal solos, duets and quartets from Donizetti, Verdi, Grieg, Flotow and as many other composers, we would not have believed such an audience could be found. While it must be admitted that the lecture and entertainment course audiences are composed of a class of people who are interested in the best of music and literary efforts, we still hold that there is a growing demand and appreciation for the best kind of entertainment."

The personnel of the company has changed somewhat since above was written but the new members of the company are artists of ability and fully equal to those retiring. The present personnel of the company is as follows: Tekla Fahl, formerly with Madame Schumann-Heink; Burt McKinnle, for years with the Savage Grand Opera company; Miss Heidenreich of the National Opera company; J. Allen Grubb, tenor of Chicago, and Margaret Day, accompanist, formerly a student with the famous Godebsky of Berlin.

The Internationals will give their splendid concert composed of solos, duets and quartets and selections from the best popular modern operas in the Burns theater next Monday night, February 8. This will be the fourth number of the Y. M. C. A. star course.
